Complaints Procedure	1.1	July 2026	July 2027

1 | Our Commitment

Overleaf Publishers Ltd is committed to providing a high-quality vocational training service. We welcome feedback — both positive and negative — and we take all complaints seriously. If something has gone wrong, we want to know so that we can put it right and prevent the same issue from affecting other learners.

2 | What You Can Complain About

- The quality, accuracy, or currency of training content
- The fairness or administration of assessments
- Platform technical failures that affected your learning experience
- Customer service or communication from Overleaf Publishers Ltd
- Data protection concerns (see also Data Protection Policy)
- Equality, diversity, or discrimination concerns
- Safeguarding concerns (these are treated as a priority — see Safeguarding Policy)
- Any other aspect of the service that has caused you dissatisfaction

3 | Complaints Process

Stage	What Happens	Timescale
Stage 1 Informal	Contact us by email at info@chainsawcourses.com with a description of your concern. Most concerns can be resolved quickly at this stage without the need for a formal process.	Acknowledged within 2 working days; resolved or escalated within 5 working days
Stage 2 Formal	If your concern is not resolved informally, submit a formal written complaint stating: your full name and registered email; a clear description of the complaint; the outcome you are seeking; any supporting evidence.	Acknowledged within 2 working days; full investigation and written decision within 20 working days
Stage 3 Escalation	If you remain dissatisfied following Stage 2, you may escalate to IIRSM (as the approving body for course content matters) or to the ICO (for data protection matters). Contact details provided on request.	As per the relevant external body's procedures

5 | How We Handle Complaints

- All complaints are treated confidentially and impartially

- The complainant will be kept informed of progress throughout the investigation
- All complaints are recorded, investigated, and used to inform continuous improvement
- Where a complaint reveals a significant error in training content, corrective action will be taken within 30 days and all affected learners notified
- Where a complaint relates to malpractice or safeguarding, it will be handled under the relevant specific policy

6 | Unreasonable or Vexatious Complaints

Overleaf Publishers Ltd reserves the right to close a complaint that is found to be vexatious, repetitive, or abusive. In such cases, the complainant will be notified in writing with reasons. This provision will be applied proportionately and will not be used to prevent legitimate complaints from being investigated.

7 | Learning from Complaints

All complaints and their outcomes are reviewed quarterly by the Managing Director. Trends and patterns are analysed to identify systemic issues and drive continuous improvement. Complaint data is included in the annual Quality Management review and, where relevant, reported to IIRSM as part of the course approval renewal process.
