Safeguarding Policy	1.0	July 2026	July 2027

1 | Policy Statement

Overleaf Publishers Ltd is committed to ensuring the welfare and safety of all learners engaging with the chainsawcourses.com platform, with particular attention to any learner who may be at risk of harm. We recognise that chainsaw operation carries inherent physical risk and that our training materials play a role in the safety of operators in the field. We take our safeguarding obligations seriously and will act promptly on any concern.

2 | Scope

This policy applies to all learners, including any who may be aged 16 or 17 (young persons) and any vulnerable adult who accesses our platform. Although the majority of our learners are adult professionals, we recognise that vocational training courses may occasionally be accessed by younger learners undertaking apprenticeships or supported training programmes.

3 | Legal Framework

- Children Act 1989 and 2004 — duties to safeguard and promote the welfare of children
- Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006 — vetting and barring requirements
- Care Act 2014 — duties relating to vulnerable adults
- Keeping Children Safe in Education (KCSIE) 2023 — relevant principles for training providers with young learners
- Working Together to Safeguard Children 2023 — statutory guidance on multi-agency working
- General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR) and Data Protection Act 2018 — data protection in safeguarding contexts
- Counter-Terrorism and Security Act 2015 (Prevent duty) — awareness of radicalisation risks

4 | Platform Safety Design

- The platform does not include any public-facing communication channels, chat rooms, or social features that could expose learners to contact from other users
- Learner data is stored securely and accessed only by authenticated administrators — no learner can access another learner's data
- The platform does not request or store sensitive personal data beyond that required for course delivery and certification
- All communication between the company and learners takes place via email at info@chainsawcourses.com — a monitored business address
- The platform does not facilitate contact between learners or between learners and third parties

5 | Young Persons (Under 18)

Where a learner aged under 18 accesses the platform (e.g. as part of an apprenticeship or supported training programme), the following additional protections apply:

- The employer or training provider sponsoring the young person's access must accept responsibility for their safeguarding as part of the activation process
- Overleaf Publishers Ltd will not communicate directly with a learner under 18 without the knowledge and consent of their employer, parent, or guardian
- Concerns about the welfare of a young learner will be referred to the appropriate statutory agency (local authority children's services or the police) without delay
- Records of any safeguarding concern and the actions taken will be held securely for a minimum of 7 years

Overleaf Publishers Ltd is aware of its obligations under the Prevent duty to have due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism. Although our training platform presents minimal risk in this regard, staff and contractors are expected to be alert to any concerns and to report them through the safeguarding reporting route above. Any credible Prevent concern will be referred to the local authority's Channel panel.
