2. SCOPE OF SERVICE & COURSE ACCESS

- 2.1 Overleaf Publishers Ltd provides theory-only digital e-learning courses delivered via a Progressive Web Application (PWA), alongside optional companion physical reference literature ("The Chainsaw Manual").

- 2.4 We reserve the right to update or improve course content during the access period. Such updates will be made available to active Learners at no additional cost.

4. THEORY-ONLY LEGAL & PRACTICAL DISCLAIMER

IMPORTANT SAFETY NOTICE

Our courses provide theoretical preparation only. No e-learning certificate issued by Chainsaw Courses constitutes a licence, practical qualification, or authorisation to operate a chainsaw in a professional or commercial capacity.

- 4.1 Theoretical Preparation Only: All courses on chainsawcourses.com are theory-only educational modules designed to support continuing professional development (CPD) and examination preparation. Completion of a course, or the issuance of a digital certificate, does NOT grant practical qualification, physical competency certification, or an NPTC/Lantra practical licence to operate a chainsaw.
- 4.2 Independent Practical Assessment Required: Candidates seeking a recognised practical ticket must independently book and complete a practical assessment through a registered NPTC or Lantra assessment centre. The Company has no affiliation with such centres and is not responsible for assessment availability, scheduling, or outcomes.
- 4.3 Limitation of Liability: Chainsaws are inherently dangerous machines. Overleaf Publishers Ltd accepts no liability whatsoever for personal injury, death, property damage, or financial loss resulting from the practical application of any technique, maintenance procedure, or operation described within our digital courses or companion manuals. All physical chainsaw operations must comply with HSE regulations, manufacturer guidelines, applicable legislation, and a properly documented risk assessment.

5. ASSESSMENTS, PASS THRESHOLDS & CERTIFICATION

- 5.1 Pass Mark: To successfully complete a course and receive a digital certificate, the Learner must achieve a score of 80% or higher on the randomised summative examination.
- 5.2 Resits: Unlimited examination resits are permitted at no additional charge. There is no waiting period between attempts.
- 5.3 Certificate Issuance: Upon achieving a passing score, a digital PDF certificate bearing the Learner's full name, course title, completion date, and a unique verification reference will be generated automatically and delivered by email.
- 5.4 Certificate Validity: Our digital certificates are evidence of theoretical study and examination performance. They do not constitute formal qualifications under any regulatory or licensing framework.
